I, Sue Ramondetta, leave Robert Sloane some seriousness to do his work.

We, the students in Mr Jonaitis's fourth period class, leave him a renewal on his subscription to Gentlemen's Quarterly.

I, Frank Zampino, leave Mr. Bourassa my nickname, Zap, for any athlete whom he might have in the future.

We, Sue Mercik and Nancy Rivard, wish to leave Miss Lauria a supply of hair dye so that she can "wash that gray right out of her hair!"

We, Kurt Kress and Jim Maciolek, leave Mr. Askin a plus (+) so he can put it with an "A" on someone's paper.

We, Beth Cassotta, Brenda Johnson, and Maureen Webster, leave Kennedy still unable to figure out what X is equal to.

I, Scott Luke, leave Mr. Bodnar a slightly used, but good "Ying Yang".

We, Linda Vibberts and Kathy Wimble, leave the teachers the knowledge that, although they may not have noticed, we did learn something.

I, Teri Sears, leave a gym towel to Kathy Dankanyin since she always liked mine.

Mrs. O'Brien is left a can of green paint so she can continue to paint shamrocks on the floor in the hub on St. Patrick's Day.

The yearbook staff leaves a special thanks to Mrs. Ivanisin for typing the yearbook.

I, Sherry Nelson, would like to thank Laura Patry for being my best friend.

The students in Blue House leave Mr. Reynolds a special diploma in "Tall Tales" so he can officially give lectures to English classes.

I, Sheri Follo, leave Mr. Bodnar all the detentions I never stayed for.

I, Denise Gallo, leave all the wonderful memories of J.F.K. to Mr. Cutler.

We, Trinidad Cascia and Tracie Hall, leave Mr. LaBreck a new set of yardsticks in hopes that he will not scare the future students by banging them on top of the desk tops.

I, Lori Silvia, leave Mrs. Kiner the biggest key ring I can find so she won't lose her keys anymore.

I, Betsy Hoehn, leave Mrs. Heye a special corner desk so she can always isolate one of her talkers.

We, Michele Lemioux and Ann Mulcahy, leave Gerry Drouin to Mr. Sullivan.

We, Sherri Follo and Shannon Everett, leave Karen Derech, Pam Dean, and Lisa Tarnowicz knowing we can still be close friends even though we are going to different high schools.

I, Sharon Quesnel, leave Mr. Bojarski another mirror so two girls can comb their hair in his back room.

I, Matt Orifice, leave Peter Dubois knowing that there is someone who can fill my shoes in the drama club.

We, Lisa McNeely and Mona Ramondetta, leave J.F.K. in high hopes that Mr. Blanchette's taste in ties will improve.

I, Sherry Nelson, would like to leave Mr. Piligian a bottle of aspirin for all the headaches I gave him.

I, Grandma Birchall, leave Mr. Plamondon my pair of knitting needles with the thought that I'll never be slow again.

We, Cathy, Holly and David, leave Mr. Pastore the satisfaction of knowing "In Plain English" his class was pretty good.

I, Laura Lasher, leave J.F.K. my brother Mike.

We, Miss Camilleri's 3rd period class, leave her knowing that we are a bunch of great looking kids.

We, Tracie Hall, Laura Lasher, and Sheryl Pucko, leave "Bubble" Bileca a Smurf.

Tony Saienni and Paul Stone leave Mrs. Heye with a sore throat for life after telling us so many times to sit down, keep quiet, and do our work.

Mr. Lauria's students leave him a saw to make the door openings wider so his wife and visit him in school.

I, Carmel Wheaton, leave with the hope that Mrs. Stevens will have another great aide just like I was.

I, Jori Silvia, leave Mr. Giatrakis his favorite words, Anno Domini, so he may torture other students with them.

We, Mr. Nacewicz's fifth period class, leave Holly Engdahl a book of matches and a copy of Pyromania and You.

I, David Callan, leave to any teacher at J.F.K. the right to quote me.

I, Amy Schaefer, owe Miss Conboy and my 8th grade team a great big "thank you" for making this year excellent and one I'll never forget.

I, Lori Schaefer, leave Mr. Giatrakis a year's supply of homework and questions to do "in one night".

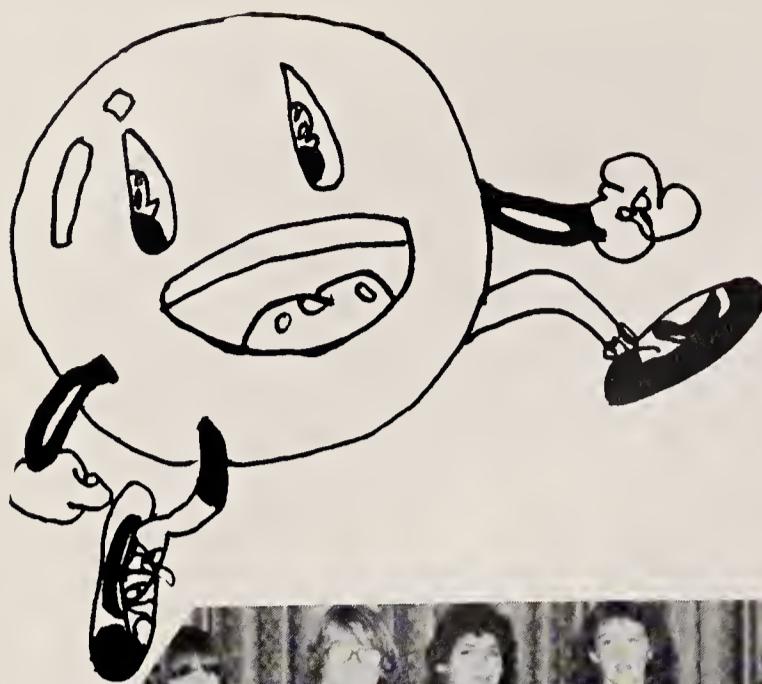

We, Ann Mulcahy and Julie Hietala. leave Mr. Bungard with the satisfaction of knowing that we won't be in his class next year.

I, Denise Gallo, would like to thank my brothers, Mike, Tim, Mark and my sister Candy for the bad reputation they left for me to face.

I, Maureen Webster, leave the book "Rank on Webster" to its author, Mr. Jonaitis, who used it too much!

I, Teri Sears, leave Mr. Fenton a Valley Girl handbook so he can finally figure out what I said all year.
